Every time I think of the Krumsicks, whom I have known since I was a little kid, I smile, but now today it's difficult to smile in the face of a life cut so short. Kevin certainly showed us how to live life with courage, and that's the lesson I'll take away from his example. That and how a wonderful family energized his efforts and each other during the final years of his life. You all are truly an example to us all. Sending all of my love, Bill Pallucca
