She loved her family most of all. They were her life. Lisa loved to cook and come up with new recipes. We always like to talk about cooking shows. Most of all she was a caring loving person. A very special woman to me. She really help me through some tough times and made them so much easier for me.

I loved her like a daughter. We could "argue" over the silliest things and then be laughing minutes later. Watching her grow into a beautiful young women and marry the love of her life was a memory I'll cherish.

When I married into Uncle Jims family I was immediately taken by the resemblance between Lisa and my daughter. I loved her and I'm so grateful for the special times we had together.
